

ETHICAL INVESTING CHECKLIST

Voting with your investment portfolio

The following table shows you two things: the companies or industries many investors generally want to avoid, and those they want to own (for sustainability/ethical reasons).

In the third column, it explains some basic characteristics or principles to consider when assessing companies or investments for the various factors.

 NEGATIVE SCREEN (companies to avoid)	 POSITIVE SCREEN (companies to own)	 THINGS TO CONSIDER (Through research)	I'VE RESEARCHED THESE ISSUES:
Animal cruelty	Clean tech & innovation	Land rights violations	<input type="checkbox"/>
Child labour	Community finance	Corporate governance	<input type="checkbox"/>
Excessive consumerism	Energy storage	Employee relations & culture	<input type="checkbox"/>
Old growth and native forest logging	Recycling	Labour practices	<input type="checkbox"/>
Fossil fuels	Fair trade	Equal opportunity	<input type="checkbox"/>
Carbon intensive industries	Community development	Community relations	<input type="checkbox"/>
Genetic modification	Organics & clean produce	Integrity of products and services	<input type="checkbox"/>
Weapons and armaments	Water management	Carbon emissions	<input type="checkbox"/>
Land degradation	Plantation & forestry	Human rights abuse	<input type="checkbox"/>
Third world exploitation	Renewable energy	Gender diversity	<input type="checkbox"/>
Gambling	Healthcare	Stance on indigenous rights	<input type="checkbox"/>
Tobacco	Sustainable design	Management incentives	<input type="checkbox"/>
Uranium	Waste disposal and management	Supply chain	<input type="checkbox"/>
Mining		Potential environmental impact	<input type="checkbox"/>
Alcohol production			